

Tornadoes Injure 12 In Texas

Three Storms Pound Sections of Nation

By The Associated Press
Three storms pounded different sections of the nation with destructive winds, snow and rain as spring came to day after renegade tornadoes ended the winter season with a spring-spring punch at Texas.

Spring officially began at 9:10 a.m. (Eastern Standard Time).

Tornadoes and strong winds whipped along the Texas coast Thursday, causing an estimated $500,000 damage in Baytown and injuring at least 12 persons in Nederland.

A disturbance in eastern Kansas cast a winter scene over most of the central and northern Plains and in the Upper Mississippi Valley.

Blizzard conditions occurred from eastern Colorado and western Kansas through Minnesota and the eastern Dakotas. One to three - inch snowfalls were blown and drifted by 50 mile per hour winds with gusts up to 60 m.p.h. in northwestern Kansas, reducing visibility to one-half block.

A storm centered in northeastern Arkansas produced rain from Missouri and central Illinois through Kentucky and Tennessee.

Rain fell from Alabama and northern Florida into the Carolinas.

In the Texas storm Thursday five persons were hospitalized when 75 m.p.h. winds struck a trailer park in Nederland. The tornado in Baytown virtually destroyed a newly constructed country club which was to be occupied in two months.

Other tornadoes reported in the Houston area did less damage.

Torrential rains accompanied the winds.

In New Orleans, 3 inches of rain accompanied by 40 m.p.h. winds flooded streets and toppling trees. Gusts up to 52 m.p.h. roared through Baton Rouge.

In the West, seven persons were injured in an 11 - vehicle pileup Thursday night in southern Wyoming as blizzard conditions prevailed.

Blowing snow stranded five school buses as eastern Colorado and marooned a school superintendent who tried to get to one of the vehicles in a snowplow.

The children were sheltered in homes for the night. Twenty-six children were bedded down in one farmhouse.

Two buses bogged down in snowdrifts on country roads northeast of Limon and three were stuck near Yuma.

The superintendent, Donald Weber, about 30, of Limon, headed for the Limon-stranded buses in a snowplow and became stuck.

In the Midwest, blizzard conditions prevailed for portions of Kansas and northwestern Missouri. Rain fell in the Kansas City area for almost 24 hours continuously.

Snow fell over most of Michigan and temperatures were below freezing.

George Reedy New Press Secretary

Salinger Resigns White House Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—George Reedy is a friendly, pipe puffing giant of a man who is taking on the almost impossible task of trying to keep both the press and President happy about public relations.

Sunny, cigar-smoking Pierre Salinger suddenly quit this job of White House press secretary Thursday to try for the Democratic nomination for the Senate in California.

With him went Andrew T. Hatcher, the assistant press secretary to the President and one of the highest ranking Negroes in government.

Pierre Salinger

For Reedy there is nothing like the break with the past that there is for Salinger. Reedy has been at President Johnson's elbow as a sort of press attache the better part of 13 years.

Around the White House he has been one of the Johnson handymen with no clear-cut title. Now he has a title and one of the roughest, most responsible publicity jobs on earth. At times his voice will be the voice of the nation on foreign and domestic policy.

But since he has been so close to Johnson so long, Reedy at times may find that the boss is going to be his own press secretary.

Like Salinger, Reedy is a former newspaperman. At 46, he is eight years older.

Like Salinger, Reedy enjoys good food and, like Salinger, he is on the rotund side but on a more massive scale.

On orders of Johnson and the doctor, Reedy is scaling down calories and poundage. From 265 or 270 pounds he is about a

Pierre Stirs Up Political Scene

Reported Seeking Senate Nomination

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Pierre Salinger flew into his home town today after resigning as President Johnson's press secretary. He apparently will run for the U.S. Senate.

Salinger would not say what his plans are, but said he would hold a news conference later today to announce whether he will seek the Senate seat of ailing California Democrat Clair Engle.

Salinger's candidacy could further complicate the controversial Senate race which has already split the party. But, the big question was whether he's eligible to enter the June 2 California primary.

Salinger apparently was armed with legal advice that

Beaver Youth Nabbed After Car Chase

A 15-year-old Beaver County boy who authorities said was driving a car for the first time led local law officials on a chase Thursday night between Lisbon and Wellsville before his capture on foot by an alert Wellsville patrolman.

The office of Sheriff Russell VanFossan in Lisbon said the episode began when a deputy approached a parked car near a Lisbon church and the young driver fled on foot in the darkness.

VanFossan, checking the area later, spotted a 1959 convertible and gave pursuit in following up suspicions that the driver might have been the boy who abandoned a car at Lisbon.

But the auto eluded the sheriff in a chase on Route 30. Meanwhile Patrolman Frank Daniels of Wellsville had been following the account of the sheriff's chase on radio and the officer noted a description of the car.

While parked at Mason's Foodliner at Wellsville a short time later, Patrolman Daniels spotted the car answering the description furnished by the sheriff.

UAW Holding Convention

Reuther Outlines Demands for '64

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—President Walter P. Reuther told his United Auto Workers Union today it must find ways in 1964 bargaining to tie pensions to the cost of living, as wages now are.

This was among a broad scope of goals Reuther outlined in a report prepared for 2,906 delegates to a demand-setting convention of the UAW.

Reuther also called for a program that would require the automakers to pay the full cost of hospital-medical insurance for retirees instead of half, and for a uniform pension rate for past and future retirees.

For those on the job and

"In the 1964 negotiations, we shall give attention to the need to create more jobs through earlier retirement, longer paid vacations, more paid holidays, a shorter work week, paid leaves of absence and cuts in excessive and unnecessary overtime."

Reuther told a pre-convention news conference that the UAW will seek a minimum gain of 4.9 per cent in economic benefits in contracts that will replace three-year pacts expiring Aug. 31.

The UAW chieftain also disclosed that his union will carry to the bargaining table a request for bonus pay while workers are on vacation "to cover the extra cost of travel and home."

Another goal he outlined is a daily production break that would in his view approximate "the coffee break execu-

Two Countians Among Victims

5 Persons Injured In Road Mishaps

Five persons, including two from Columbiana County, were injured in two of four district traffic mishaps Thursday, besides the fatal truck-auto accident near Columbiana.

William Couchenour, 30, of the Lower Elkton Rd., Columbiana, and Mrs. Donna Daugherty, 26, of RD 5, Salem, received neck injuries in a two-car crash at 6:30 p.m. on Route 164, about two miles north of Columbiana.

The woman also suffered a bump on the forehead and cheek.

The Canfield post of the State Highway Patrol said Mrs. Daugherty, was driving north when she went off the left side of the road after passing an unknown vehicle. Her car came back onto the road and struck a southbound car operated by Couchenour.

Both cars were considerably damaged, and the woman was cited for passing without the assured clear distance.

Three Youngstown persons were hurt in another two-car mishap at 9:45 p.m. on Route 18, two miles west of the Youngstown corporation limits.

The Canfield Patrol said Mrs. Elizabeth Mitchell, 39, mother of the injured boy, was turning right when their car was hit in the rear by another car in which Mrs. Lalley and Treharn were riding. The driver is unknown. Hits Embankment

No one was hurt in a one-truck mishap at 3:10 p.m. on County Rd. 430, about two miles west of the Pennsylvania line. The Lisbon Patrol said Ray Westbrook, 52, of RD 1, Leetonia, was heading west in his pickup truck when he was crowded by an unknown car. Westbrook went off the right side of the road, crossed to the left and hit an embankment.

Another pickup truck, operated by Reno Davis, 16, of RD 5, Lisbon, figured in an accident at 5 p.m. on Route 164, about a mile north of Lisbon.

Howard Donnalley, 29, of 224 Pritchard Ave., Lisbon had halted his car to turn left when Davis' truck came up from behind, and tried to go around the auto. The truck went out of control and rolled over. The youth was unhurt but was cited to Juvenile Court.

Beatles Amassing Money Too Fast To Count It

LONDON (AP)—Pity the poor Beatles. They're making money so fast they don't have time to count it.

And today another golden flood begins. It's the release date for a new record of theirs.

A million copies have been sold in advance in Britain alone—a mark achieved only once before: by the Beatles.

"We think the Beatles are the biggest thing in show business—anywhere, anytime," said an official of the recording company.

The long - maned quartet is spinning about as busily as its records.

Until May, that is. Then they plan to take a month off—to rest for a summer schedule that includes a coast-to-coast tour of the United States, starting in August.

The boys are making their first movie. The film, still untitled, is being shot at studios near London and on location in the west of England.

The boys expect to finish the film late next month, when they have two concerts scheduled in Scotland.

Then for that rest—for which they'll probably split up and seek seclusion from the hordes of screaming teen-agers who follow them continually.

On May 31 the Beatles return to action with a concert in London. In June they will tour West Germany, Holland, Belgium, Australia and New Zealand. July's schedule is being booked.

Then it's "Beatlemania" time again for the United States.

But it isn't only the teen-agers who cuddle close as they

John Dishong Of Columbiana Traffic Victim

Car Hit By Truck At Blinking Light At Rts. 14 and 46

A 59-year-old Columbiana area factory worker, homeward-bound, was killed Thursday at 2:50 p.m. in a splintering collision between his car and a coal truck north of Columbiana at the traffic light intersection of Routes 14 and 46.

The victim, John H. Dishong, of the Canfield Rd., RD 1, Columbiana, was pronounced dead on arrival at Salem City Hospital. He suffered a crushed chest and back and internal injuries.

John H. Dishong

Columbiana County corner Dr. William A. Kolizi ruled the death an accidental traffic fatality. Dishong was thrown from his 1962 Mercury Comet and the corner said he might have been alive today if he had been using a seat belt.

His death was the sixth traffic fatality in Columbiana County since the first of the year—two ahead of the corresponding toll a year ago.

Dishong was driving north on Route 14 and stopped for the traffic light which had been changed to a blinker for repairs. North-south traffic had the blinking red light and the east-west traffic, a blinking yellow caution light.

Neil Gray of the Lisbon post of the State Highway Patrol said Dishong apparently pulled from the light into the path of the oncoming eastbound unloaded coal truck operated by Roy Custer Jr., 31, of RD 1, East Palestine. Custer also was brought to

United Civic Group Seeking Help In Securing Doctor

WINONA — The United Civic Improvement Association is requesting the Sears Roebuck and Company Community Medical Association to help find a physician, according to Donald Murphy of Salem, chairman of the association.

Murphy recently heard about the Sears program and wrote for information.

The Sears Medical Association will conduct a survey of residents and if a study confirms the need for a doctor, Sears will help secure one, Murphy said.

The civic group consists of residents of Butler, Knox, West, Hanover, Salem and Center Townships, and hold meetings at Winona. A fund drive last year raised 710 to help secure a physician for this area.

Murphy will report to the civic association on the Sears Medical Association program at the annual meeting April 14 at 8 p.m. in the Winona Methodist Church.

6 Youths Penalized For Burglaries

LISBON — Six Rogers area youths, aged 14-17, were placed on probation for one year Thursday by Juvenile Court Judge Louis Tobin after they admitted several burglaries and thefts.

Each youth was ordered to pay $125 in restitution and given seven days detention in the county jail. The drivers licenses of three boys were suspended for 90 days and those who do not have licenses were ordered not to apply for them until four months after their 16th birthday.

The boys broke into a garage at the home of Mrs. Mildred Hoies and into the Harvey Saunders residence. They also took $30 from Rogers School and entered the Paul A. Dean Camp, Peace Valley and Westminster Church Camp.

They were cited by county deputies.

The Lenten Story

BY WOODY ISHMAEL

I THIRST

In His death agony on the cross, Jesus cried out several times. When He said, "I thirst," a soldier standing nearby put a sponge on the end of a spear and plunged it into a vessel of vinegar. To the vinegar he added some gall. Whether this was done to sooth the wounds of Jesus or to mock Him further, we do not know.

But John tells us that after the vinegar reached His mouth, "He said, 'It is finished,' and He bowed His head, and gave up the ghost." (John XIX:30)

New GM Plant Will Aid Salem

Salem certainly is to be included among the district communities which will benefit from General Motors Corporation's decision to build a $40,000,000 Chevrolet assembly plant at Lordstown.

Work is to begin by late summer or fall, with the plant in full production by 1965. The site near Lordstown is a straight drive north on State Route 45 from Salem and only 15 miles away.

Because of the size of the plant and the scope of operations, jobs will be available to Salem people, as well as other residents of the Mahoning-Trumbull county district. It was not uncommon during the war years for Salem residents to drive back and forth to jobs in Warren, and General Motors' location alongside the Ohio Turnpike is even a shorter distance.

Total employment may run about 4,800 persons, according to GM estimates, and a payroll of such magnitude is bound to have a stimulating effect on the economy of the entire district.

And with work progressing on the Atlantic & Pacific Supermarkets Company's refrigerated warehouse here in Salem and definite assurance of the Chevrolet plant near Lordstown, we are bound to see further business investments and improvements in the months to come.

Salem is fortunate to be in this geographical location.

Setback For Ohio Development

To say the Ohio Supreme Court's unanimous thumbs-down on Ohio's industry-financing program is a blow to the Rhodes administration is an understatement.

The Rhodes administration had been staking everything on industrial expansion, to be financed by development corporations newly created by a new set of Ohio laws.

The purpose of the corporations was to raise cash for private enterprise in Ohio and thereby to encourage new enterprise to come here and existing enterprise to expand.

The corporations could be formed in communities and elsewhere in the state "to borrow money for any of the purposes of the corporation . . . to make loans to any person, firm, partnership, corporation, joint stock company, association, or trust . . . to purchase, receive, hold, lease, or otherwise acquire and to sell, convey, transfer, lease, or otherwise dispose of real and personal property . . . to acquire the good will, business, rights, real and personal property . . . to acquire, subscribe for, own, hold, sell, assign, transfer, mortgage, pledge, or otherwise dispose of the stock shares, bonds, debenture, notes, or other securities and evidences of interest in, or indebtedness of, any person, firm, corporation, joint stock company, association or trust . . . to mortgage, pledge, or otherwise encumber any property . . . to cooperate with and avail itself of the facilities of the state commission or division concerned with economic development etc." The authority was sweeping.

THIS WAS THE most ambitious industry and business development project ever proposed anywhere, certainly the most far-reaching proposal ever made in Ohio. Two questions were raised at the outset—one financial, one legal.

Who would invest in the corporations, which inevitably would find themselves handling high-risk loans?

Would the new law authorizing formation of the corporations be ruled constitutional?

The first question was not answerable until the second question had been answered.

The Ohio Supreme Court unanimously has found the corporations to be unconstitutional, on the grounds they extend state credit to private institutions. The second question has been answered.

Ohio's constitution provides in Art. VIII, Sect. 4: "The credit of the state shall not, in any manner, be given or loaned to, or in aid of, any individual, association or corporation whatever; nor shall the state ever hereafter become a joint owner, or stockholder, in any company or association in this state, or elsewhere, formed for any purpose whatever."

WHETHER any law can be written to carry out the purpose of industrial and business expansion inside the Ohio constitution is now in gravest doubt, unless the constitution is changed.

As written and interpreted by the Supreme Court the constitution makes private enterprise wholly dependent on private resources for its development and maintenance.

There shall be no state capitalism in any way, shape, or form. That, in substance, is what the Ohio Supreme Court has ruled.

The decision is admittedly a blow to Gov. Rhodes, who already has bent powerful efforts in attempting to fulfill his promise of seeking more industrial jobs for Ohioans. Already he has led teams of sales agents for Ohio to manufacturers in other states, wooing them for Ohio.

He pledges, in view of the Supreme Court decision, to "redouble our effort, energy and endeavor to make it possible for present industry to expand and to attract new industry to provide jobs for our people."

To that, Ohioans will say, "Amen!"

Baseball Is Reassuring

Whether baseball is really the national game is good for an argument anywhere. But those who get carried away on the negative side and predict baseball's disappearance as a spectator sport should

Precious Cargo

As the result of a school bus driver training institute held at Salem High School recently, the operators of those familiar yellow vans are going to receive special instruction elsewhere in the county.

The Columbiana County Board of Education, recognizing the value of the program here, has authorized training for all drivers, with seven who qualified as instructors here, to conduct the course in each district.

When school buses are laden with irreplaceable cargoes of young human lives, proper instruction of all drivers is not amiss.

fix one thing in their minds.

Baseball is a game played by ordinary men.

Its journeymen and its stars are rarely distinguished in physical appearance. Many are a shade smaller than the ordinary run of males in the American scene.

They are baseball players not because of extraordinary height or unusual bulk but because of their reflexes, agility, durability, speed, sure hands, and good eyesight.

Basketball has ruled out would-be players of ordinary height. Football has been staked out by players of gargantuan size; an ordinary aspirant has no chance.

Only baseball among the three spectator sports gives a fan a chance to identify himself with 165-pounds waiting at the plate for the pitch they want, or wiry infielders scampering to his left to backhand a hot shot through the hole. This just may be baseball's salvation — this identity with the common man.

"Your statement was great, Bobby, but why don't you clack it with something a little sentimental."

UAW Prepared for Strike

By VICTOR RIESEL

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. Here, where the old CIO was launched by a handful of men some 30 years ago, Walter Reuther and his militant secretary - treasurer, Emil Mazey, are telling the 3,000 United Automobile Workers (UAW) convention delegates that their union is now worth all most $88 million. And the bulk of these assets is in a massive ready-to-use liquid strike fund, the world's biggest labor war chest.

Reuther — who at 56 is literally a battle-scarred veteran of scores of industrial wars which followed the first sit-in strikes — is ready to use the money in a showdown fight with the "Big Three" auto manufacturers this summer. And he is saying so quite frankly.

"In 1964 the UAW is better prepared than ever before," Reuther advises in a report submitted to the 19th UAW Constitutional Convention.

"It's estimated that by the time our contracts terminate we should have approximately $65 million in the International Strike Defense Fund. It is our hope — and we shall do everything humanly possible through rational responsible goodwill and good faith collective bargaining — to avoid a situation that would require our using these strike defense funds."

"WE HAVE BUILT these sizeable strike defense funds as the best insurance against the possibility of a strike, for just as adequate military power provides the best insurance for peace, so a strong and adequate defense fund is the best guarantee that a strike will not be necessary. . . .

"The best interests of UAW members can be served only when their union is strong and prepared for any eventuality."

"We go to the bargaining table in 1964 stronger and better prepared than at any time in the history of our union."

What is the auto union high command preparing for? Most observers who expect the traditional drives for earlier retirement, higher wages, pensions and welfare benefits are not yet aware of what may well become the prime collective bargaining issue. This is the campaign for a 50-minute work hour. It will be a big push to establish the right of the worker to spend more time away from the job — and this will not be just for toilet time.

THE GOAL of this campaign is to write into the contract the right of hundreds of thousands of workers inside the plants and on the assembly line to knock off for a while — to grab a smoke, read a newspaper, relax, stroll, or make a phone call — not just for 12 minutes in the morning and 12 minutes during the afternoon, but regularly.

Such a change would require relief workers who could step into the slot when the worker on the line knocks off for a few minutes.

Those who have discussed this with highly placed UAW officials and delegates realize how intense the policy makers are in this union whose membership is so much maturer now than in the old convention hell-raising days when signs were posted warning the folks not to throw water - filled paper bags out the windows.

No doubt the auto companies will fight such a move, since the cost of cutting the hour to 55 or 50 minutes for some 600,000 workers will be heavy. And the warning from Reuther is that if the dispute over this and other issues does result in a strike later this year, the union has enough money to hold out for months and support its people for the duration.

There is another intriguing aspect of this strike fund. THE INTEREST earned by the strike fund finances the global activities of Reuther's union. And they are global-ranging from sophisticated Switzerland to Tokyo and around to the interior of Brazil. During the last fiscal year, the strike fund put $2.82 million into what Reuther calls the International UAW Free World Labor Defense Fund. Under the direction of both Walter and his brother Victor, this money helped unionize Brazilian metalworkers; supported strikes and organizational activities of Spanish miners and metal workers; offered assistance to a labor press in Africa; provided funds for African independence struggles in Angola and Northern Rhodesia.

It also helped set up a central research organization for four big union federations in Tokyo, encouraged and aided Italian metal workers to strike and eventually to win the dues checkoff, wage increases and a shorter work week; "revitalized" the Turkish metal workers union so effectively that its membership skyrocketed from 8,000 to 58,000, supported a French miner's strike and aided the establishment of a world labor film and propaganda center in Brussels.

Obviously, Walter Reuther's horizons are far beyond those of the handful of men who launched the CIO here back in '35 when he was a red-haired youngster still dreaming of his first sit-in strike.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann: For eight years I was married to a sadist. Lord knows I tried to make the marriage work but both my doctor and my clergyman told me to leave before he put me in my grave. We were divorced in December.

I've always made good money and have been self-supporting. Through the years I've managed to save a little because I was unable to get insurance due to a heart condition. I did not ask for a settlement or alimony.

Last night my former mother-in-law telephoned to say the family had talked it over and they feel I should return the jewelry her son gave me, since most of the pieces are heirlooms and would have no meaning to me now.

I had the jewelry appraised and it is worth about $13,000. I never would wear it but if I ever became ill it could get me out of a tight spot. Should I keep the jewelry or return it? —EX W.

Dear Ex: The jewelry was given to you during your marriage and you are entitled to keep it. Tell your ex-mother-in-law if you ever decide to sell the jewelry you promise to give the family first refusal.

Dear Ann: This may be a small matter but it is beginning to annoy me no end. Maybe you can help.

I have a very good friend, who, when she wants a favor never says, "Please, could you?" — or "I would appreciate it if ——" It's always, "I want you to do this and so."

Sometimes she sends her children to my door. They speak the way she does. This morning the 11-year-old said to me, "Mother wants you to pick up a loaf of bread and two quarts of milk for her when you go to the market today."

I was particularly nettled and replied, "It would be nice if you would hook a please on to that." He did not get the point.

Am I making a big fuss over nothing? Should I rise above my irritation and remain silent? Or should I let the woman know how I feel and try to teach her and her children some decent manners? — HUTCHINSON HATTIE.

Dear Hattie: Correct your friend and her children when they demand instead of ask. And be direct. This crew doesn't know from subtle.

Dear Ann: Yesterday afternoon I entertained our club, which is two tables of canasta. This group has been meeting regularly for 12 years.

Halfway through the creamed chicken Mrs. C gave a shriek that could have been heard in Coral Gables. "Oh, my Lord," she yelled, "A RAT!"

I looked up and saw a tiny grey mouse scampering across the dining room floor. It couldn't have been more than 2 inches long.

The girls became panicky. Mrs. C gasped, "I'm fainting!" and had to have a cold washcloth for her head. Two women climbed up on their chairs. In less than three seconds the frightened little mouse had disappeared but my luncheon was ruined.

I have a sneaking suspicion Mrs. C did this to humiliate me. I feel like resigning from the club. What is your opinion? — ON TRANQUILIZERS.

Dear On: C's hysterical reaction probably dates back to her childhood. I doubt that she intended to humiliate you. It would have been far better, of course, if she had remained quiet and telephoned the next day to inform you of the uninvited guest at the canasta party.

Rights Pro & Con

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Perhaps the clearest exposition of what is involved in the civil rights bill pending before Congress has been given by a retired justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, Charles E. Whittaker, in an address before the South East Missouri State College.

While not attempting in any way to pass judgment on the constitutionality of the bill or to forecast any decisions, Mr. Whittaker explained just what is the pro and con in the public debate.

He said, for instance, that "irresponsible recriminations and term usages settle nothing, but only divide and confuse people and create new problems" and can't be a good substitute for "co-operative, calm and responsible reasoning processes." He declared:

"Today there is a wide tendency to speak argumentatively through the use of catchwords. Some of those that are commonly heard are terms of fairly definite meaning, such as 'segregation,' 'discrimination' and 'integration,' but even they are often used with little fidelity to their true meaning. Others are advanced as terms of definite meaning, or of art, when in fact, as often used, they are meaningless. . . .

"THE TERM 'segregation' is, in legal effect, but another synonym for prohibited 'discrimination.' The term 'desegregation' is a coined one of awkward and dubious meaning.

"But the term 'integration,' though commonly used as a synonym of 'antidiscrimination' or 'antidiscrimination,' actually has a very different meaning, and embraces the concept of mixing — well illustrated by the transfer of school children from their home district to a distant district for the purpose not of avoiding 'discrimination' but of affirmatively 'integrating' the races.

"There is, as the Supreme Court has held, a clear basis in the fundamental law of our land, and particularly in the 14th Amendment of the United States Constitution, for striking down 'state acts' of 'discrimination' and hence 'segregation' in all 'public' institutions, including state public schools, as violative of that amendment's guarantee of equal protection of the laws.

As the law stands today, there is no federal — distinguished from state — legal basis for compelling 'integration.'"

Justice Whittaker pointed out that the Supreme Court, in the only opinion which it has rendered on the point, held unconstitutional an attempt by an act of Congress "to establish a code of municipal law regulative of all private rights between man and man in society."

HE SAID that the court ruled that this "was not within the powers delegated to the national government by the states and the people through the Constitution, and was therefore beyond the power of Congress to enact."

He explained the two opposing views in the debate today and referred to the intention of the advocates of the current "civil rights" bill to try to get another legal test.

He added that they — the defenders of the new bill — "seem to hope that the court, if again presented with the question, would find its 1883 opinion to be an erroneously narrow interpretation of the Constitution, and that the present bill is within Congress's constitutional powers." He added:

"I, of course, have no information, and intend no expression, upon how that argument might fare in the court, or even upon how it ought to fare there."

Continuing his exposition of the issues, Justice Whittaker said:

"A principal controversy seems to center over what is called the 'public accommodations' features of the pending bill. Those features, while not identical with, are very like the ones contained in the Civil Rights Act of 1875, which act, as stated, was held unconstitutional by the court in 1883.

"Many people seem to be quite nonspecific and unclear in their use of the term 'public accommodations.'"

"Those espousing passage of the pending bill seem to take the view that all, or nearly all, entrepreneurial establishments that do business generally with the public are, or ought to be held to be, 'public.'"

"THOSE WHO resist passage of the pending bill seem to take the view that, in the presently existing legal sense, as in the dictionary sense, only those enterprises which are carried on by, or are lawfully and fully regulated by, the state or federal government — usually tax-supported or subsidized enterprises — are 'public,' and that all others, such as one's home, club, store, shop or office, or 'private' enterprises, to which only those who are expressly or impliedly invited may, of right, come and enter.

"And they contend that, inasmuch, and so long as, this is so, any invitation expressly or impliedly extended to members of the public may be withdrawn or negated by any private entrepreneur for wholly and arbitrary reasons, or for no reason, simply by the giving or posting of a notice accordingly, and that it is beyond the constitutional power of the federal government — distinguished from the state government — as held by the Supreme Court in the civil rights cases in 1883, to do anything about it.

"I DO NOT intend to enter that controversy, or to do more, in this connection, than to point out the importance of ascribing to words, including the words 'public' and 'private,' their true meanings in any reasoned and enlightening discussion of issues that revolve around them."

The views of Justice Whittaker, as a retired member of the Supreme Court, have made a deep impression in Washington. The full text of his speech was inserted in the Congressional Record on Tuesday.

Mr. Whittaker served as a federal district judge and as a judge on the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals. He was appointed to the Supreme Court in 1957 by President Eisenhower and resigned in 1962.

Remember When...?

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Memory is a strange miser. It hoards the oddest things, and in moments of reverie parades them before your inner eye in a seemingly haphazard fashion.

You've been through life's mill yourself, if you can look back and remember when—

You could be the life of any party by imitating Charlie Chaplin's duck-footed waddle.

Ladies were so delicate and fainted so often that every well-run household kept a bottle of smelling salts handy to revive them.

A wife who held a job outside the home tried to keep that fact from her relatives — as if it were a kind of disgrace.

One of the biggest thrills of boyhood was to get to wear the wool wrap-around leggings your soldier uncle brought home from World War I.

It was widely believed that business depressions were caused by sun spots and that, anyway, there wasn't much that man could do to prevent them or keep them from running their course.

Every small town had a champion whittler and a champion spitter and a champion liar—and sometimes these distinctions were all held by the same man, in which case he was certain also to be the champion idler.

A boy's dream of getting rich started by trying to sell homemade lemonade from an orange crate stand in front of his home at a penny a glass.

The first man to buy an electric fan was the envy of the neighborhood.

Every tobacco store had a wooden Indian at the entrance, and harness and hardware stores often put outside a statue of a white horse.

If your best girl held a spring dandelion under your chin, and it reflected a yellow tint, this proved you were fond of butter—and she was fond of you.

Beauty for the asking

By JOSEPHINE KAERCHER, Beauty Consultant

MERLE NORMAN COSMETICS STUDIO

When fashion oracles say "the natural look" is in, you can be pretty certain that the exaggerated makeup of a sloop-eyed Cleopatra is definitely out.

And that's how it is, girls, for the seasons ahead. We're all going to try for the natural look, the glow of clear, healthy skin, bright eyes, pink cheeks. However, if time (and nature) have dried your lovely skin, dimmed your eyes and maybe even faded those naturally rosy cheeks, all is not lost by a long shot.

In the first place, you can re-acquire a clear complexion with a great all-purpose cleansing cream, a very special complexion conditioner, and a creamy powder base which blends perfectly with the color of your very own skin. And I just happen to know exactly the right ones for you.

Next step on the route to that natural glowing look is the oldest makeup trick in history — blush rouge, a soft gentle pink.

Use sparingly. Start at the cheekbone and blend smoothly, under the eye from nose to temple and over your smile area. Smile, so you know the area I mean.

When you blend this creamy rouge to the very edge of the lower lid, you'll see a surprising thing — your eyes brighten. Your face gets a glowing look. Add face powder to set and soften your new look. For the finishing touches to your makeup, you're on your own. Or, write or telephone and ask me about a free hour of beauty.

Mrs. Mock Had Ambition to Fly while Grade School Pupil

By ADRIENNE BOSWORTH
Associated Press Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The fourth graders in Newark, Ohio, some 30 years ago spoke that universal phrase of childhood . . . "when I grow up I'm going to . . . fly airplanes," finished little Jerrie Fredritz.

Thursday, 3 decades and 32 miles from that conversation, a single engine plane took to the skies and Jerrie, now Mrs. Russell Mock, 38-year-old housewife and mother, began a trip with high hopes of setting some solo flight records for women.

She'd like to be the first woman to complete a solo flight around the world, in the fastest time for planes in her Cessna's class.

She hopes to do it in 30 days or less, but says that under the Federation Aeronautique Internationale she can set some records if she does it within 90 days. The federation has sanctioned her flight.

The years between that fourth grade and today's take-off have been filled with diversions from the childhood ambition. Her pilot's license is only seven years old.

She majored in aeronautical engineering at Ohio State University, but stayed on the ground to marry high school sweetheart Russell Mock in 1945. Two years later Roger was born and, a year after that, Gary.

She kept house, reared her children, studied opera and wrote radio programs about it, co-produced an educational television program for Central Ohio schools and dabbled in photography.

The dream of flying was dormant, but not dead. She was already a pilot when the youngest Mock, Valerie, came along in May 1960.

"I wish I had the opportunity to fly every day. With a household to take care of, it's sometimes difficult," she said. But she flew all through Mexico, to the northern reaches of Canada and to the Bahamas during the past year, all preliminary to today's take-off.

"I haven't thought about anything else for a year and for the last six months I've really been pushing," Mrs. Mock explained.

The long flights were rehearsals for the globe-circling trip. "I'll be flying 8, 18 or 20 hours a day, depending upon the winds and all," she said, adding she is going to make the trip "as quickly and safely as possible," and emphasizing the "safely."

Keeping her busy, in addition to piloting the craft, is a book filled with flying regulations for each country she passes and entry requirements for each one of her stops.

When her trip first was announced, she was deluged with letters from persons throughout the country. Most of them offered advice. Some contained religious medals. Others said she was "crazy and ought to stay home."

But the one she showed off came in a decorated envelope addressed to: "Jerrie Mock, the Magellan of Columbus."

IBOP Unions to Name Delegates To Convention

Locals of the International Brotherhood of Operative Pottery throughout the United States and in parts of Canada—including Salem Local 42—will vote at their April meetings to nominate delegates to the union's 70th international convention in July at Long Beach, Calif.

The convention will open July 6 at the Lafayette Hotel in the west coast city, under the official call issued Feb. 20 by Charles F. Jordan, secretary-treasurer.

Constitutional regulations governing election of delegates were published today in the union's official newspaper, The Potters Herald.

It provides delegates will be nominated three months prior to the convention, with the election in the following month. The election may be held "at any one stated meeting in May."

Local unions are entitled to one delegate for the first 50 members or less. A second delegate is permitted for the next 50 members or major fraction. Every additional 100 members or major fraction entitles a local to another delegate.

Fatality

Salem City Hospital where he was treated for contusions of the right thigh and lower back and abrasions of the forehead.

The auto struck the truck in the front end, sending the car into a spin southward. The truck jackknifed three times and rolled over, tearing loose the front wheels and axle. The impact threw Dishong, an employee at the National Rubber Machinery Co. for 35 years, out of the car and onto the pavement at the crossroads.

Custer's truck after overturning, uprighted itself in an area in front of Hyde's Sunoco Service Station, crashing into a stretch of mud and snow fence. The front wheel assembly plowed into a parked pickup truck owned by Hyde Keylor of RD 2, Columbiana, operator of the service station. Only minor damage resulted to that truck.

The coal truck operated by Custer was owned by the Ferries Trucking Co. of East Palestine.

Appropriation Bill Okayed In Salineville

SUMMITVILLE — The 1964 appropriation ordinance totaling $7,285 was approved when five members of Village Council met Wednesday at the township hall with Mayor Ernest Phillips presiding.

The sum is over $1,000 higher than last year's appropriation of $6,125.

In other business, Council passed an emergency ordinance authorizing and directing the clerk to advertise for bids for lighting of streets, highways and public places.

The ads must be displayed in at least five public places. Bids will be opened at noon April 23. A street resurfacing program was decided. Council voted to oil Shale Ave. and sealcoat Oak Ave. All other streets are in good condition. Mayor Phillips will confer with county officials for approval of the program.

William Swinger, council president, reported that surface water is entering a store basement in the building belonging to L. W. Shertzing. Members voted to install a storm sewer at the intersection of Spruce and 3rd Sts. to control water damage.

Bills of $418 were approved.

Next meeting will be April 16.

Foreman said he signed a contract with Eileen Kaminsky, a sister of Ruby, and with three of Ruby's brothers, Hyman Rubenstein, Chicago, Earl Ruby, Southfield, Mich., and Sam Ruby, Dallas. The four drove from Dallas to Houston to see Foreman.

The family said Belli was fired by special delivery letter, signed by Jack Ruby and another sister, Eva Grant of Dallas, and mailed Wednesday night.

Belli, arriving at his San Francisco home Thursday night, said he will meet newsmen at his office at 10 a.m. today to make a statement.

"If we are successful in getting a reversal of this case and a new trial, I don't think Mr. Ruby will ever be executed," Foreman, 61, told newsmen.

The family said Foreman, a 210-pounder who stands 6-4, was their choice as chief attorney all along. They said they hired Belli after a go-between who approached Foreman crossed them up.

Patrolman Daniels fired a warning shot in the air and the youngster surrendered. He was taken to Lisbon and is being held in custody today by the sheriff's office.

VanFossan's office said the boy was driving a car stolen from Gertrude Ketchum of Lisbon RD 1. Deputies learned the boy had driven his mother's car to Lisbon, intending to run away to California. He also drove to Canton and East Liverpool before returning to Lisbon, where the car ran out of gas. He was parked at the Ganders Flats Church when the deputy investigated and the boy fled on foot.

Rotary's work among the crippled children costs the club nearly $2,000 annually and is only one of several civic enterprises.

he could seek the nomination. Engle underwent brain surgery last August, but he has filed for re-election in the face of assertions by state Democratic leaders that he's too ill to campaign.

The U.S. Constitution requires only that a senator be 30 years of age and an inhabitant of the state.

Some election experts seemed to think that Salinger, 38, former San Francisco newspaper reporter, could qualify if he's primed to get his nomination papers in on time. The deadline is 5 p.m. today.

Others weren't so sure because he let his California residence lapse when he left for jobs that led to his post as press advisor to the late President John F. Kennedy and then President Johnson.

Democratic leaders expressed surprise over reports of Salinger's decision to jump into a political contest in a state where he once worked the hinterlands for other candidates.

Most of them, from Gov. Edmund G. Brown, on down, already have committed themselves for Engle or his chief opponent, State Controller Alan Cranston.

Brown, who has endorsed Cranston, remained silent on the possible entry of Salinger, who helped out in one of the governor's earlier campaigns. His office said he'll wait until Salinger formally indicates his plans.

Science Students In Steubenville Exhibit

They are mostly from junior high although a few senior high students are taking part.

Rusk Expected To Retain Job

Future Uncertain After Election

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dean Rusk seems likely to stay on as secretary of state through the November elections, but what will happen after that is uncertain.

Sources close to Rusk said he has given no thought to resigning now.

And they pointed out that it is up to the voters in November to name the next president, and it will then be up to the chief executive — whether President Johnson or someone else—to select his Cabinet.

Pending these decisions, they said, Rusk can hardly say that he will be staying on for another four years.

The American Broadcasting Co., which said Thursday that Rusk would step down after the elections, also reported that Pierre Salinger planned to resign as White House news secretary. He did, and his top assistant, Andrew T. Hatcher, also quit.

Rusk, in Salt Lake City for a speech, told newsmen: "The day after President Kennedy died, President Johnson asked me to stay on. I am at his disposal. I have no plans to resign at all. The President and I haven't discussed the matter."

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT
Label Poisons In Your Home

Household chemicals are so familiar and we have used them so long that we tend to become careless. When we get careless, someone in our family can get hurt.

Each year half a million people are accidentally poisoned. Many are children, but many also are adults who should know better. Some 1,700 people die each year from accidental poisoning.

We use household chemicals to clean our homes, launder our clothes and open our drains. We spray roses, control weeds in the lawn and exterminate vermin and pests with poisons. We take medicines occasionally without realizing that, while the prescribed dose may relieve aches and pains, an overdose can be fatal.

What can be done to help avoid accidental poisoning in the home? The American Medical Association offers some suggestions —

1. Label everything. Don't depend on memory to tell you what's in a bottle.
2. Keep all household chemicals, cleaning agents and polishes out of reach of children.
3. Keep all medicines, including aspirin, in a locked or inaccessible cabinet.
4. Never put a poison or toxic substance in a container designed to contain food — milk bottle, soft drink bottle or cereal box.
5. Teach your children there are some things they must leave alone. Never forget the curiosity of the child. He will eat or drink anything.

IF POISONING OCCURS in your home, three steps are essential — (1) Administer first aid to the victim; (2) Save the container and any of the poisonous substance to identify it; (3) Get medical help immediately.

First aid involves getting rid of the poison or delaying its absorption. To get rid of the poison induce vomiting, by finger gagging after a generous drink of tepid water. To delay absorption, have the victim drink milk or raw egg. Vomiting should not be induced when volatile oils like gasoline or kerosene are involved, or when corrosives like lye or drain cleaners have been swallowed.

Prevention of accidental poisoning requires a sense of responsibility and an awareness of possible hazards. Remember, your home contains enough unlabeled poison to kill your entire family.

Elyria, East
Meet At 7:30
Winners Clash In Finals Saturday

By FRITZ HOWEL
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio is ready to crown its 1964 high school basketball champions, and all eight teams in the week-end classic firmly believe the title finger is pointed in their direction.

Despite divergent season records, there are no favorites at this stage of the colorful cage classic scheduled today and Saturday in Ohio State's St. John Arena.

The Class A teams four survivors of a starting field of 397, had semifinals on tap this afternoon. The Double A larger schools, a quartet making up the residue of 513 original aspirants, meet tonight.

Every eye is on tonight's final fray. It sends Dayton Belmont's top-rated Bison against Canton McKinley's second-ranked Bulldogs—each with a 24-1 record—for a spot in Saturday's championship contest.

It's the first time in tournament history that the 1-2 teams in the final pre-tourney Associated Press poll have clashed. The other Class AA semifinal sends Elyria's Cinderella squad (18-7) against Cleveland East (21-3).

Something else new had been added this year, since the cast is made up of three teams from the northeastern district and one from the southwest. Despite the talent arrayed against it, Dayton Belmont is given an even chance to give its area its 21st state title in 42 tries. If one of the other teams wins, the northeast will gain its seventh crown.

McKinley is in the state meet for the 15th time, Dayton Belmont is making its first appearance, Elyria was here two years ago, and Cleveland East in 1924. The Canton club has no titles to show for five previous trips to the championship game—and none of the others has reached the big payoff contest.

Dresden Jefferson, in Class A, hopes to add the smaller school title to its 1963 conquest—but only two teams in history have been able to put the division's championships back to back. Bellport did it in 1924 and 1925 and Waterloo's Wonders in 1934 and 1935.

Dresden (23-2) goes against Mogadore (16-6) in one semifinal, while Celina ICHS (26-1)—second rated and last of the division's Top Ten—battles Piqua Catholic (21-3). Only Dresden has been in the state tournament before.

Snead's 68 Leads Doral Open Event

By BEN FUNK
MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Sam Snead, still booming his shots off the tees at the age of 51, led the year's strongest golf field into the second round of the $50,000 Doral Open Tournament today.

Racking up a four-under-par 68 in the opening round despite his usual putting difficulties, Slammin' Sam staked a first-round claim on the 7,500 first prize awaiting the winner Sunday.

One stroke behind were Mike Souchak, Dave Hill, Bob Shave Jr., Bert Yancey, Joe Lopez Sr. and Ken Venturi. Ten others were only two strokes off the pace.

Snead, who plays in only a few tournaments but continues to add substantially each year to one of golf's biggest bank rolls, complained that he missed five birdie putts.

This is his first start on the tour this year. The West Virginian started in only 12 out of 43 tournaments in 1963, but still collected more than $28,000.

The 7,028-yard Doral Country

Club "Blue Course," called the "Blue Monster" by some pros, gobbled up two of golf's Big Three, Arnold Palmer and Gary Player.

Palmer, still looking for his first victory of 1964, finished in a tie for 30th place after scrambling to a par 72 in a round that included a double-bogey.

Player, complaining that the Doral course "is too exacting," did even worse with a 73 after hitting into a water trap to take a double-bogey seven on the eighth hole.

Jack Nicklaus shot a 70, although he said, "I didn't drive well, my iron shots were only fair, and my putting was terrible." He three-putted four greens.

NCAASemi-Finals Scheduled Tonight

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
KANSAS CITY (AP)—Cazzie Russell has a tender ankle, Duke had a minor plane mishap, UCLA is fighting the doldrums and Kansas State is a longshot. All of which, the various coaches say, means practically nothing.

The four coaches with teams in tonight's NCAA basketball championship semifinals outlined their troubles after brief workouts Thursday, then confidently repeated their vows of optimism.

Each of the quartet — John Wooden of UCLA, Dave Strack of Michigan, Vic Bubas of Duke and Tex Winter of Kansas State — said he felt his team had a legitimate shot at the championship none of them has ever won before.

The line-up has Atlantic Coast Conference champion Duke, 25-4, playing Big Ten co-champion Michigan, 22-4, in the opener. Top-ranked UCLA, 28-0, takes on Big Eight champion Kansas State, 22-5, in the second game. The winners meet Saturday for the title.

UCLA finished the regular season with the ranking of the nation's No. 1 college basketball team. Michigan was second and Duke third. Kansas State, which had to upset Wichita in the Midwest regionals to gain the semifinals, was unranked.

"Since we're playing in our area, it figures that we're going to have a lot of Kansas State supporters on hand," Winter observed. "And there may be an advantage in playing here. We play here three times each year and our boys like to play in Kansas City. Maybe those are advantages. If they are, we'll take 'em. We need all the help we can get."

Kansas State, beaten 78-5 by semifinal opponent UCLA in the regular season, has won 13 straight. It features a zone defense, built around 7-foot Roger Suttner, and the scoring and rebounding of Willie Murrell.

Wooden discounted any pressures that may have been built up in an undefeated season and the No. 1 ranking, but admitted "we were fortunate to get through the regionals. There was a letdown after finishing the regular season. I don't think it will happen here, but it's possible."

The mighty Bruins have a blistering running attack, featuring the backcourt pair of Walt Hazzard and Gail Goodrich and a disturbing zone press. They're the shortest team in the tourney, with no starter over 6-foot-5.

Duke was shaken up a bit when its charter plane skidded off a rain-slick runway just after landing at the Kansas City Airport. There were no injuries and less than an hour later the team was taking part in a closed workout at Municipal Auditorium.

"There's no reason it should have any effect," Bubas said. "No one was hurt. We just skidded off the runway."

The ACC champs, like UCLA, offer a fast-break offense and have good rebounding in a couple of 6-foot-10 operatives, Jay Buckley and Hack Tison. Backcourt ace Jeff Mullins is the team quarterback and top scorer with a 24.4 average.

Russell, Michigan's sophomore backcourt sensation, still is nursing his right ankle, injured in Big Ten play, Strack said.

"He limps on it until he's caught up in the game," Strack said. "It's a handicap, but he will be able to go at near full capacity. Let's say he'll start."

Physically, Michigan is the strongest team in the tourney, has excellent rebounding from two husky 6-foot-7 front line men, Bill Buntin and Oliver Darden.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's top-talented Class A high school basketball player comes from the hills of Ross County.

He is Larry Jordan, a 6-foot-6 senior who carried Richmondale Southeastern through 52 straight victories before bowing to Dresden Jefferson's defending state champions. He averaged 30 points while doing it, and his team was the last in the state to feel defeat.

Jordan, with four other hotshots in the smaller school division, Thursday night was named to the Associated Press All-Ohio Class A team—the best of the talent from 397 schools. Only pre-tournament performances were considered as Associated Press sports editors from throughout the state made the selections. Jordan led the voting.

Cabas On Committee To Select Coaches

North-South All-Star Cage Game Gains NCAA Approval

By FRITZ HOWEL

Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—After a two-year lapse, Ohio's high school basketball coaches have won NCAA approval of a North-South all-senior all-star game—and it will be held Saturday, June 27, in the Marion Coliseum.

Tom Thatcher of Sulphur Springs, president of the cage mentors, led the fight for resumption of the Yankee-Rebel fray in which the South holds a 3-1 advantage.

Sole sponsorship by the Ohio High School Basketball Coaches Association, and assurance that profits would go to a college scholarship for a member of the team which wins the state Class AA championship Saturday, were the big items in winning NCAA approval.

The coaches also promised that 10 days of practice would be staged by the two 10-player squads prior to the game, and that $5,000 or more in insurance would be taken out on each boy from the time he leaves home until he returns.

The coaches have divided the state into 16 districts, eight in the south and eight in the north, and the top player from each will appear on the all-star squads. In addition, the co-coaches of each side will pick one player, and the co-managers will pick another to round out the 10-man outfits.

Three boys who won the $100 per year scholarships in previous years are now attending Marshall, Centre and Capital universities. If profits warrant, the scholarship amount, or the number of scholarships, will be increased, Thatcher said at Thursday night's meeting of the board of directors of the Coaches Association.

Dan Baker of Marion Harding and Lee Kimmeger of Ayersville will be co-managers of the all-star contest and the one-day clinic. They also are on a committee with Thatcher, George Heller of Portsmouth and John Cabas of Salem which will select the co-coaches of the annual classic.

Practice sessions will be held at Marion Harding's gymnasium.

um. The clinic was originally planned as a two-day affair but was finally cut to two sessions on all-star day because the oil boom near Marion has upset housing arrangements.

The all-star coaches, one in Class AA and one in Class A for each side, will be picked from the 16 in each class who reached the regional tournaments.

The association laid down one strict rule. It was to the effect that the 20 all-stars be "mothered" at all times by their coaches to prevent outside contacts — especially by college coaches bent on recruiting them.

Personnel of the teams is expected to be announced in a couple of weeks, with each of the 16 districts naming its own representative and alternate.

Paul E. Landis, new high school athletic commissioner, who attended the session, said a referendum would be taken next month which would drastically change the current Class AA and Class A divisions.

Under present rules, in which the dividing line is 181 boys, there are 397 Class A or smaller schools, and 513 Class AA or larger institutions.

The referendum would put any four-year school with 251 boys, or any Class A school with 201, into Class AA, and those under those figures in Class A. Landis figured the set-up, if the referendum passes, would result in 400 Class AA and 512 Class A schools in the state.

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—New Mexico's Ira Harge, at 6-foot-8 and 203 pounds, presents a formidable barrier between Bradley and its third National Invitation Tournament basketball championship.

To hear Bradley personnel talk, removing Harge is tougher than getting rid of dandruff. The New Mexico senior was the object of everyone's admiration following the NIT semifinals Thursday night in which the Lobos pressed their way past NYU 72-65 and Bradley rammed over Army 67-52.

Fourth-seeded New Mexico and second-seeded Bradley clash Saturday afternoon for the title. "I don't think anyone can handle Harge," Bradley Coach Chuck Orsborn said flatly. "At least I haven't seen anyone handle him."

Levern Tart, the Braves' top scorer, called the Detroit resident "a whale of a player," adding: "He jumps out of the gym."

He's a demon on defense. You don't make many lay ups against him."

Joe Strawder, at 6-foot-9 the only Bradley player of comparable height, said Harge is "one of the greatest I've seen in college." It will be Strawder's job to guard Harge, but he's not sure how he'll do it.

"I guess the best thing to try and do is keep him from getting the ball," he commented. Harge's 17 points weren't high for New Mexico, but he missed seven minutes of the first half and had to play cautiously in the second half because of personal fouls. On defense, he blocked a number of shots and generally got in NYU's way.

Tribe To Dedicate Stadium In Mexico

NOGALES, Mex. (AP)—Cleveland will hold dedication of stadium in its first trip of the year into Mexico today. Jim (Mudcat) Grant and rookie Tom Kelly were slated to pitch for the Indians in an exhibition game against the Chicago Cubs in the new stadium here.

The Tribe turned the tables Thursday on the Boston Red Sox in a wild 17-10 triumph in Scottsdale, Ariz. Boston's only two exhibition victories in 12 games were against the Indians. Cleveland's bombardment included a homer and triple by Max Alvis, 2 doubles and 10 singles for a total of 23 hits. Alvis, Dick Howser, Vic Davalillo and Joe Azcue had three hits apiece.

Southpaw Tommy John, Cleveland's starter, allowed eight hits and four runs in his five-inning stint. The other Red Sox runs were off Gordon Seyfried and Ted Abernathy.

Carl Yastrzemski, the American League batting champ, and Dick Stuart, who led the league in homers last season, hit roundtrippers off John in the fifth inning. Boston's Lou Clinton whacked one off Seyfried in the seventh.

A word from THERON at the Country Store

I am going to have plans drawn up for a couple more additions to the Country Store.

We want to change our entrance and add some onto the dining room and kitchen. We are going to increase the size of our parking lot again very soon.

The way it looks business is going to increase here and we must be prepared to take care of more customers. After all there is only one place like the Country Store. I don't know if that is good or bad.

Guide to Quality Fruit

By ALLAN SWENSON
Regular spraying is the best guide for quality fruit from your home fruit trees and bushes. Even with the relatively new insecticides and fungicides, the problem of disease and insects isn't solved with a few sprays. One of the most important parts of any spraying program is that it be carried out regularly through the summer. You can expect to spray at least three times between the dormant period and the first blossoms, and then five times or more during the summer. Research work has shown that if you don't spray the trees every 7 to 10 days, you can't expect good protection.

Plan now to have spraying done during your vacation time. Arrange to trade garden care with a neighbor. He can put on a spray while you're gone and you can do a job or two for him in return.

What kind of spraying equipment you use makes little difference in pest control if you get adequate coverage. Make sure you can reach the tops of the trees, and under foliage as well. Apply enough spray so that some drips off the leaves. This will insure proper coverage.
